Cassowary

Cassowary prides itself as being an exemplary world-class boutique facility, accommodating guests’ comforts and desires while being sensitive to the environment. Custom-designed by award-winning architect Charles Wright, Cassowary has been awarded a five-star rating for energy efficiency thus contributing to a reduction in Cassowary’s carbon footprint.

Here you will find a luxurious, fully self-contained retreat nestled in a serene natural setting.

From its elevated position Cassowary offers a spectacular vista dominated by features such as Mount Demi and the majestic Thornton’s Peak in the heart of the Daintree. Just 15 minutes from the internationally renowned resort town of Port Douglas, and 40 minutes to the Daintree River Ferry, Cassowary is the ideal base for exploring the Great Barrier Reef, World Heritage-listed rainforests, the Daintree National Park and also to enjoy the attractions of Port Douglas.

From the high-end teak imported furniture, colourful accents and fabrics to the Dana-series oil on canvas art pieces. The artist, Dante Palmes, resides in the Philippines and his Dana series is a vibrant collection that captures and brings the lush beauty of the rainforest into your suite. Cassowary featured in the top 50 Interiors in Australia – House & Garden Collector’s Edition, October 2009.

Cassowary can be defined as an ecologically sound concept that has resulted in a superb fusion of elegance, luxury and environmental sensitivity.
Luxury gone green

In addition to being an exotic paradox of indulgent luxury, modern architecture and natural wilderness, Cassowary also cares about the environment.

Our tagline ‘Luxury gone green’ not only suggests that we offer luxury in the green of the rainforest, but that we also care about our environment. In an attempt to reduce our carbon footprint the spectacular architectural roof line also serves as a conduit for capturing rain water throughout the rainy season. With over 80,000 gallons of water collected each year, this allows Cassowary to fully service water outage throughout the retreat, and utilise this energy efficient methodology in water consumption.

To reduce the excessive use of air cooling requirement the actual design of Cassowary affords an efficient air flow throughout the structure. To enhance the efficiency of the air conditioning process all units are stored under the house in order to leverage the natural coolant effect of the quantum mass of the rock foundations.

Only biodegradable products are used at Cassowary.

At Cassowary we care, you can contribute too, by using the recycling bins and re-using towels when you can.

Getting to the Cassowary retreat

If your journey begins at Cairns International Airport or Cairns City you will head north along the Captain Cook Highway. The Captain Cook Highway is a scenic highway that winds alongside the coast heading to Port Douglas and beyond to the Daintree.

Getting to Cassowary entails a leisurely 75 minute drive; punctuated by rocky headlands and boulder-strewn points, pristine sandy beaches and tropical rainforest – it is, in a sense, an experience just getting to your holiday destination.

Continuing along past Port Douglas for 13 kilometres you turn left onto the road to Mt. Molloy (Rex Range Road)

You may wish to stop & shop for your provisions / essentials en route. The Smithfield Centre or Clifton Beach shopping complex or Port Douglas IGA are conveniently located on the highway.
To fully enjoy an optimal, revitalizing get-away, we believe in attending to guests in a customized approach during their stay. We cater holistically and tailor individually to your needs and preferences – regardless of how active or relaxed you want your stay to be. Before you arrive, you can choose from an array of amenities, services, activities, excursions, and treatments – all designed to refresh, restore and rebalance.
Why not take the stress out of planning your tours & activities and let us do the running around. We know what is on offer throughout the region so we can gauge (according to individual preferences) tours and activities which would be most appropriate for the particular group or members thereof. We check weather conditions / forecasts regularly throughout any day and would therefore suggest that you perhaps contact us several days before your arrival, and before you commit to a tour or activity that may be affected by adverse weather conditions – we can generally assess at what point in your stay optimal conditions would likely exist for undertaking certain activities.

At the Cassowary we want you to relax and enjoy the environment whilst experiencing all that the area has to offer. Tell us what you would like to do and let us do the ‘leg work’ for you. We pride ourselves on being able to connect the visitor to the desired experience – and we do it free of charge.
